Table of contents AutoCAD tutorials Resources Keyboard Shortcuts and Shortcut Keys AutoCAD Tip: Have you ever lost your place in a drawing? It is simple to re-find your place using "Find" in the "More Tools..." dialog box. Once you have found the tool, simply click in the "Find" box and it will automatically go to the right place in the drawing. With AutoCAD 2018, the Find tool is called the "Find or Replace" tool and is located in the Find section in the Tool Palettes window. The dialog box is located on the right side of the top toolbar. You can also use the shortcut keys for the "Find or Replace" tool. This can be helpful if you are using a tablet or using a mouse with the "Find" icon hidden on your toolbars. Most common shortcuts for the "Find or Replace" tool are: Tip: You can always access the "Find or Replace" tool by pressing the "F" key on the keyboard or on the tablet. Alternate Quick Find Tool The "Find or Replace" tool is the primary method to find a location in a drawing. The first time that you use the tool, you can choose either to "Find" or "Replace" the location. In the "Find" box is a drop down box that allows you to select a range of values that you want the tool to search for. If the drop down box is empty, it means that the user has not entered any search values. Using the keyboard, you can press the "Ctrl" key and then either the up arrow (↑) or the down arrow (↓) key to select the options in the drop down box. You can also select the options directly by holding down the "Shift" key and pressing the up/down arrows. You can choose from the following: Any Value This option will search for any value and replace the location with the value in the "Replace with" box. Value: This will only search

When I was looking at the definition of the noun, I came across the following example. C. III. MATTER A. are of, consisting of, made of, constituted of Now I wonder if this is correct. Do you think this sentence makes any sense? Please note I am new to English and looking for help. A: It's a very interesting sentence. It may be paraphrased as: Something that has a particular fact or characteristic is of a type that has that fact or characteristic. The sentence is indeed correct. The construction you have stumbled upon may have a different (in fact, simpler) meaning. The noun "matter" can be used
