I want to hover to a class element and show and hide the other elements if the class is TRUE or FALSE, to achieve this I'm using a simple fade. My problem is in my hover, where I want to use the data-id from the element I'm hovering. How do I pass this data id into the js? This is what I tried. HTML Productos: Producto 1 Producto 2 Producto 3 JavaScript $(".product").hover(function() { $(".product").not($(this).children(".product")).fadeToggle('slow'); var id = $(this).children(".product").data("id"); }); CSS .product { background: red; } .li { width: 100px; height: 100px;
