Electrochemical DNA detection based on a functionalized gold nanoparticles/PANI nanocomposite/polyaniline electrodeposited film. A positively charged gold nanoparticles/polyaniline electrodeposited film (Au@PANI-EDF) has been synthesized using electrochemical polymerization of aniline on a polished Au electrode. The Au@PANI-EDF is applied to electrochemical DNA hybridization with capture probe immobilized on the surface of the Au@PANI-EDF and target DNA. After hybridization, the hybridization product is detected based on the enzymatic oxidation of hydroquinone, which is catalyzed by glucose oxidase. The enzymatic oxidation reaction is electrochemically detected using the gold nanoparticles-modified screen-printed carbon electrode (SPCE). The electrochemical detection scheme developed is a very simple and sensitive detection method for DNA with potential for real sample analysis.The Tied House The Tied House is a dystopian science fiction novel by American writer Philip K. Dick. It was first published in 1985 under the title The Josephine Typhoon and reprinted in 1989 as The Josephine Typhoon and later in 1995 as The Tied House. Plot summary Set in the distant future, the story follows protagonists who are introduced in the first chapter. There are four of them: Zala, a blind man living on a desert planet who is searching for a cure for his blindness; Bor, a woman who fights aliens; Flint, a paraplegic ex-fighter pilot; and a woman who has had plastic surgery to become a young man, Mack, a spy for the Thunder Corps, a special bodyguard corps which guards the President of the Federated States of America. They each have unique views of the world, but each is forced to cooperate with the others. At one point the group is attacked by a force which is not of this world. Most of the world's population has been killed in a mass killing, with the survivors driven to drink alcohol. But
